DAHLE INTRODUCES NEW DEPARTMENT SHREDDER:

Model 20813 Offers High Volume at a Low Price

Peterborough, NH, December 16, 2005 – Dahle enhances its shredder line with the introduction of the 20813 Department Shredder. This German made shredder will appeal to budget-minded offices looking for a heavy-duty shredder at an affordable price. The 20813 is a cross cut model which provides greater security by shredding confidential documents in two directions instead of one. Designed to shed between 2,000 and 12,000 sheets of paper per day, this machine will hold up to 35 gallons of shredded material. Its attractive design and high shred volume make it a nice addition to any large office, copy room or communications center.

“Dahle’s 20813 is a very versatile machine.” said Scott Prokop, VP, Dahle North America, Inc. “It’s power and storage capacity allow the shredder to be centrally located and accommodate the shredding needs of the entire department.”

This fully automatic shredder features automatic on/off capability which allows you to insert your documents and walk away. A wooden cabinet not only houses the shredded waste but also deadens the noise to allow for whisper quiet operation. The waste material falls into a convenient shred box that can easily be lined with Dahle’s disposable shred bags and emptied or recycled when full. If you’re not sure when that will be, the shredder will inform you through its audible and visible warning indicators. Once your shredder is empty and the door is closed, it will resume normal operation. Dahle Department Shredders are available in nine versions with the Dahle 20813 retailing for $2595.
